PREFACE

Who's Who for the last time, of persons who died during the years 1916 to 1928 (inclusive), but in a few cases the biography has been altered to show a title received orinherited shortly before death. The number of children shown in an entry is the number living at the date of the last issue of Who's Who in which the entry appeared.

A small number of biographies will be found without the date of death, as in some instances it has been found very difficult to trace these and to continue research for them would have involved postponement of the publication of this volume. The Publishers will welcome any definite information from readers regarding such dates.
